

Transparency and Transferability of Learning Outcomes: A 20-Year Journey

A report published last year, Transparency and transferability of learning outcomes: a 20-year journey, offers an in-depth analysis of European policy initiatives (2000-2020) designed to enhance the clarity and portability of learning achievements.

Key findings include:

- ✓ Growing alignment among European initiatives in learning outcomes-based approaches.
- ✓ Increased focus on recognizing skills gained outside formal education.
- ✓ Stronger policy coherence supporting mobility and lifelong learning.
- ✓ The need for further collaboration across education and training sectors.

Building Bridges Across Borders Through Digitalization - final report

The Nordic-Baltic region has taken a step toward seamless educational mobility with the completion of the CBDS-Study project. This four-year initiative enhances digital cross-border services for students, helping to realize the Nordic Council of Ministers' vision of becoming the world's most integrated region by 2030.

- ✓ Enabling the secure digital exchange of educational credentials.
- ✓ Strengthening the use of the EMREX platform for student data sharing.
- ✓ Key result: developing a handbook and baseline study for future cross-border data collaboration.
