

Putting the Global Convention on Higher Education into Practice

Second Webinar in Capacity-Building Series

The Global Convention on Higher Education is transforming recognition practices by introducing shared terminology and approaches for cross-border education, joint degrees, and non-traditional learning modes.

Join us for the second capacity-building webinar, which will focus on the newly adopted Operational Guidelines—the first document to unpack the Convention's language for practical use. These guidelines help stakeholders interpret emerging practices and clarify roles in diverse higher education contexts.

Webinar Objectives:

- Deepen understanding of the Operational Guidelines, including methodology, principles, and practical implementation.
- Share national experiences applying the Convention's principles to support fair and transparent recognition.
- Explore opportunities for joint actions and community building.

Register by 25 September 2025

[\[Putting the Global Convention on Higher Education into practice\]](#)

The Long Road to Automatic Recognition in the Context of Mobility

AUREA Project Multiplier Event

Join the AUREA project's free online event on 27 October 2025, 14:00–16:00 CET, to explore the findings on credit mobility and automatic recognition across Europe.

Expert Panel:

- Lana Par, European Students' Union (ESU)
- Helene Peterbauer, European University Association (EUA)
- Johannes Gehringer, DG EAC, European Commission
- Harriet Klåvus, EU CHARM

The AUREA project supports automatic recognition of credits earned abroad by providing tools, evidence, and policy recommendations to improve transparency and consistency.

 [\[The long road to automatic recognition in the context of mobility\]](#)

Upcoming Resource: Code of Good Practice on Transnational Education

On 10 April 2025, the Bureau of the Lisbon Recognition Convention (LRC) met in Rome to advance a new Code of Good Practice on Transnational Education (TNE). This update responds to the evolving global education landscape and technological changes.

Key Focus Areas:

- Clarifying institutional responsibilities in TNE programmes.
- Addressing recognition challenges and academic integrity across borders.
- Establishing common terminology and guidance for quality assurance and recognition.

The draft will be reviewed at the next Lisbon Recognition Convention Committee meeting in October 2025.

Save the Date: Diploma Supplement Webinar

27 November 2025 at 14:00 BRU Time

Based on feedback from the spring webinar, this session will continue discussions on joint degrees and the diploma supplement, share the latest updates, and foster peer learning.

Spread the Word & Get Involved

- Join our mailing list: Email europassi@oph.fi to receive updates.
- Propose informal workshops: Suggest topics for Zoom or Teams sessions.
- Let's build a collaborative, innovative network together!

For questions or suggestions, feel free to reach out.