Do you currently have any non-Finnish citizens in an employment relationship?

Are you currently planning to recruit from abroad?

[illegible]

- Diploma Supplement (like other Europass tools) are not widely used or even known by Finnish employers
 - DS has a lot of potential for employers, but it needs be communicated better to be known
- In recruitment decisions skills matter more than qualifications. DS or any degree certificate have value mainly for recent graduates
- Added value for DS would be a data base / online tool that would make it easy for anyone to compare qualifications from different systems
 - Hope to see actions towards this kind of a tool in Skills Portability Initiative after the summer

Thank you!
